John Smith, William Bloggs and Nicola White

Abstract

Please format your paper using either this file, or the enclosed template file (blank), following the instructions provided in the sv-pagelayout.pdf document. The template is provided to ensure the proceedings are visually consistent. Therefore, what is most important is that all authors use similar fonts, headings, table formats, etc. If you have trouble using the template, please refer to the style description contained in the PDF appendix where the proper margins, font sizes, and other elements are specified. Please also use the author-date reference style with the Springer SocPsych Style described in the included key-style-points-references.pdf.
